

I beleive that people should not be bothered by telemarketers over & over after you tell the NO so many times. They are very rude to you and your families and 99% of the time they are interrupting meal times or it is past 9:00 pm when most people are trying to sleep and put there children to bed.